

ABSTRACT

SALON SYSTEM INFORMATION

(SALON CASE STUDY)

Salon information system that is still done manually cause several problems, including the problem of data accuracy, time efficiency in data processing and use quite a lot of paper. This information system created in order to facilitate the cashier as the primary manager in collecting data and information processing salon that such information will then be processed into a report. The information system developed using the Java programming language, MySQL database and object oriented programming concepts. According to the needs that exist, then the system is developed based desktop.

Keywords : Salon Information System, MySQL, Object Oriented Programming.